

Prefinishing on Spectis Products

Occasionally customers inquire if Spectis products can be prefinished in the color of their choice. You can confidently answer them, “Yes, absolutely.”

All Spectis standard products come with 2 coats of paint. The second coat is an exterior product that acts as a primer to field finishing. We can also professionally prefinish in the color of the end user’s choice, which we are willing to quote for you.

We do not recommend dark or glossy colors be used as this will accentuate possible knicks that may occur during installation. Also, dark colors absorb more heat which may cause paint bubbling over time.

Our professional prefinishing is done with Sherwin Williams products and will last for a minimum of five years under normal weather conditions.

To get a quote for a prefinished project, we will need to know the quantity and items to be prefinished. Contact your customer service representative or email contactus@spectis.com.

All standard items are sent with two coats of white or tan-colored paint: tan is used on our wood textured products to ensure better coverage for the final paint coat on site. We provide detailed instructions on how to best finish any Spectis product on page 267 in our catalogue. At Spectis, we want the end user to be proud of their finished Spectis products and as such, want to give you all the information you will need to get that result.
